

PRIVACY POLICY

This document has been prepared in order to demonstrate our commitment to your privacy.

IP Address

After the installation of the xFlow, we require your IP to connect to your computer and help diagnose problems that you report to us. Your IP address is not used for gathering any kind of demographic or statistical information. We do not disclose your IP to any third party company.

Personal Information

Upon purchasing our solutions, you are required to enter your personal information. This information is never disclosed to any third party company. Your personal information will only be used when Skymarx Solutions contacts you. You will always have access to your personal information and are free to change it. Third party companies will only be given personal information (phone number and name), upon your written consent and request, and may only be used for consultation purposes on our solutions. Clients will receive periodic newsletters directly from our Administration to the e-mail address that they provided us with upon purchase. This newsletter will only contain material that relates to the services of Skymarx Solutions.

Access

Upon purchase, you will be given a Customer ID. This ID, and your password can give you access to our Customer Area. This login information should be kept confidential, as any request that arrives to us from your Customer Area, is considered to be coming directly from you, and will be carried out. After installation of the xFlow, you will be prompted to create your First Administrator. This must be created by you, and only you should know this login information, as the First Administrator has full-access to adjust the software. Keeping these login informations secure and private is your responsibility.

Cookies

Our site uses cookies, in order to track sales for our affiliates. Please enable cookies for our site. We will never use cookies to place advertisements or any unwanted object on your computer.

Public Forum

When posting on our forums, remember that all information is public. Please remember that the forum is moderated.

Security

This site has security measures in place in order to protect all personal information from loss, misuse, or alteration. We use only the best storage, backup, and security services. We do not store any financial information on our site and do not collect your social security number.
